Expedited Service Speeds Time to Market for Europe Household Appliance Manufacturers.

KPC Introduces 15 Day Service Guarantee for Household Appliance testing for Low Voltage Directive (LVD) Approvals.

KPC, announce a new Service Guarantee for 15-day turnaround of CE “Coc” Marking Certificates for the European Union’s Low Voltage Directive (LVD). Setting a new standard for the industry, KPC offers Thailand Household Appliance manufacturers an expedited process for receiving LVD “Coc” CE Marking certificates, resulting in a quicker path to certification and shorter time to the EU market.

KPC’s new 15-day LVD Service Guarantee was created to provide the Household appliance market a faster approval process for the ultra-competitive EU market. With ongoing process improvements, dedicated resources, and improved communication tools, manufacturers are provided with a transparent certification timetable from the beginning of the process, bringing predictability and control to their product launch schedules.

We are committed to continually developing new and innovative processes to get our customers products to market faster. With our 15-day certification process, our customers will benefit from our market leading process, providing them with their LVD “Coc” certificates faster than ever before.”

The Low Voltage Directive (LVD) defines essential quality and safety requirements for all Household appliance imported, sold, and used in the EU. In addition to its 15 -Day Service Guarantee, KPC provides Household Appliance manufacturers with a full suite of safety and regulatory solutions including Reviews, electrical safety testing, electromagnetic compatibility testing, environmental compliance services, and analytical services.
